

HONORS BUILDING ENGINEERING TOUR

On July 27, the Honors Building Engineering Tour was held. The tour was led by Andrea Davis, Emergency Management Coordinator. The tour was a great opportunity for students and faculty to learn more about the Honors Building and the engineering programs. Andrea shared her experience working in the Honors Building and the importance of safety. She also discussed the various engineering programs and the opportunities available for students. The tour was a success and we look forward to future events.

Andrea Davis is the Emergency Management Coordinator for the Office of Administrative Services. She has worked for OAS for over two and a half years as an Emergency Management Coordinator. Before that, she worked for over a year in emergency response at the Ohio Department of Health.

EMPLOYEE PROFILE

ANDREA DAVIS
EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT COORDINATOR
A A

Andrea has worked for OAS for over two and a half years as an Emergency Management Coordinator. Before that, she worked for over a year in emergency response at the Ohio Department of Health.

She works in a dynamic and busy environment, constantly managing projects and collaborating with different departments for training.

Andrea says working in emergency management feels like being part of a beehive, and her favorite part of OAS is working with people on which she can rely.

Her top advice for new employees is to build connections and relationships within OAS. Get to know your colleagues and facilities well and be open to learning about how everything works around here!

Andrea is a big sports fan, especially football and baseball. She loves attending games and she is passionate about traveling and exploring places outside of Florida, particularly out west. Something most people don't know about her is that she used to be a competitive bowler.

Andrea is not much into movies but loves binge-watching shows like Grey's Anatomy, New Amsterdam, and The Good Doctor. Her favorite place to eat is Chipotle. Another favorite is Cooper's Hawk, a winery near the airport. But hands down, Chipotle is her top go-to spot!
